Announcements:

Past President Aric Graham unveiled the plans for President Donnie Garritano's debunking: it will be held on June 17, 2013 at the Las Vegas Country Club. You may bring your own wine to the event, and the Club will take care of the uncorking fees. So bring your good stuff!

Ted Henderson stood up to personally thank Chris Publow and the Ted Wiens on Charleston and Flamingo for helping him out recently while on a softball road trip to California. His tire blew out, and Ted Wiens came to the rescue. Glad everything turned out well!

Doug Malan stood up to heckle Ted Henderson: "So where is this Charleston and Flamingo store?????" Hmmm... good question.

Eric Colvin pre-announced the summer theatre outing. We will go to September Theatre on a Friday in September, so get ready to bring your blankets, food and wine—a good time will be had by all.

Hank Falsted announced the presence of his guest, Dave Downey, an architect.

Recognitions:

Ron Reynolds made yet another appearance at a rock concert in LA. And apparently there is a Youtube video out there somewhere documenting that wild and crazy weekend. We'll have to do some digging around into this little bit of intel.

Eric Colvin's bank, Meadows Bank, showed an 11th straight quarter of profits. Meadows Bank is doing so well, it is expanding all over the place. Watch out world—here comes Meadows Bank!

Keith Thomas' bank, Royal Business Bank, also appears to be doing quite well. It just acquired Los Angeles Business Bank. In personal news, his daughter just graduated with her Masters in Fine Arts. Congrats, Keith!

Bruce Pope just got back from Italy, where he spent a most fabulous time touring Venice and the Italian wine country. Sounds absolutely lovely.

Our Speaker:

George Togliatti, vice president of security, surveillance and safety at Mandalay Bay.

Speaking on: Keeping the Strip Safe

George Togliatti, vice president of security, surveillance and safety at Mandalay Bay. He manages a staff of 300 in support of resort operations that include 4,400 hotel rooms, an arena, and over 2 million square feet of convention space.

Mr. Togliatti spent more than 23 years with the FBI, managing organized crime and drug units in Las Vegas and serving as the white-collar crime supervisor. He was a regional vice president with Harrah's Entertainment and then served as the Director of Public Safety for the State of Nevada.

In January of 2004, Togliatti was appointed as Director of Public Safety for the State of Nevada. Prior to his service with the state, Togliatti was the Regional Vice President of Government, Community Relations, and Regulatory Compliance for Harrah's Entertainment, Inc.

In addition to his responsibilities at Mandalay Bay, Mr. Togliatti currently serves as a security consultant to Major League Baseball, the National Hockey League, and the Arena Football League.

Some tips: don't park on the second floor of a parking garage, and try to park near the surveillance cameras in the parking garage. Also, and perhaps most importantly, don't drive an Escalade.

Visiting Rotarian Malia Schwartz looks like she won at the poker tables today.

Is that a sea green tie mixed with a mint green shirt and blue pants???

Kayle Knowlton, our inspiring scholarship winner.

This visiting Rotarian looks like he's been having a good time all week.

Entertainment by Scott Baranoff.

Ron Reynolds, our resident Superman-style Rock Star.

Our speaker George Togliatti—a real bad-ass!

Madam President-to-be Troy Lochhead, delivering the scholarship to a very deserving Kayle Knowlton.
